Teeth whitening has become increasingly popular over recent years. It is a popular choice for patients who are looking to improve their smile without major invasive treatment.

However, recent reports in the media have caused some confusion over the “legalities” of tooth whitening treatments and whether it should be carried out in other establishments such as beauty salons.

The General Dental Council strongly believe that tooth whitening is a “practice of dentistry” and should only be carried out by a qualified and registered dental professional.

New regulations which came into effect on 31st October 2012 affirm that whitening products containing or releasing up to 6% hydrogen peroxide can only be sold to dental practitioners, and can only be used by a dental practitioner and under their direct supervision.

We advise that if you are considering a tooth whitening treatment you have the procedure done at your dental practice under the prescription and supervision of your dental practitioner.

We are pleased to offer “Opalescence” tooth whitening at the practice. Please do not hesitate to discuss the treatment options with Brian, Ian or Olga who will be able to advise whether you are suitable for the treatment, along with the results you can expect to achieve.

Opalescence - £399.00 per treatment.

Affordable low cost payment options are available from only £7.67 per week. Please ask for more details. Sturminster Dental Care is authorised and regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority
